GDE750 MA Project: How can Eco-Collective build a community facilitating access to sustainable materials, within the graphic design industry?

Name of Researcher: Jessica Whatley

Question: "I would be really grateful if you would tell me your experience personally with access to sustainable resources. This can be anything at all - whether it's your experience with clients requesting specific materials and how you approached it/recommended alternatives, or any suggestions on how the design industry needs to improve its sustainable footprint. For instance, what are your thoughts around a database for manufacturers, graphic designers and clients to refer to for sustainable practice?"

Format: Phone call

1. I confirm that I have read and considered the questions provided above dated 12.11.21 for the research study. I have had the opportunity to discuss my responses and answer any further queries Jessica may have.
2. I understand that my participation is voluntary and that I am free to withdraw at any time without giving any reason, without my legal rights being affected. I also understand the information will not be shared outside of academic purposes (tutors, exam board, students etc.).
3. I agree to take part in the above research.
